Last Friday morning, 125 children in second through eighth grades, met for a party on the dunes at the foot of Ocean Avenue. They were all members of the Beachcombers Club, summer reading program of the city's Harrison Memorial Library. Four small seashells were awarded the first four books reported on. Two larger shells each took two book reports to earn. A special shell was given on completion of a tenth book. About 75 children met the latter requirement.

Middle School, A New Concept

BY ORVILLE ROGERS, PRINCIPAL

Carmel Middle School consisting of grades five through eight will open its doors to approximately 675 students on Tuesday. It will occupy the former junior high school site with the addition of eight new classrooms.

While the 4-4-4 organizational pattern is not new to Carmel, the middle school concept is. We visualize the middle school as an "in-between" or intermediate school serving as a transitional phase between the neighborhood primary (K-4) school and the four-year high school. We want it to be a school that will better fit the needs and potential of children from ten to 14 than did the traditional elementary and junior high school. We hope that the school will encourage innovations such as team teaching, programmed learning, ungradedness and grouping plus creativity on the part of teachers and administrators.

A number of factors prompted the board of education in its decision to set up a middle school:

(a) First of all, they felt that ninth graders would get a better academic program in a four-year high school rather than as part of a three-year junior high. This is particularly true in Carmel where 80% of our students are college-bound and grades start to be a crucial factor for the college-bound student starting in the 9th grade.

(b) There was a feeling also that the needs of fifth and sixth graders could be better fulfilled in a middle school where they would have the benefit of specialists in the various subject areas.

(c) There was also the feeling that our fifth and sixth graders had not been sufficiently challenged in the traditional self-contained classrooms.

Actually there are not many true "middle schools," depending on your definition, throughout the United States. There are a number with intermediate grades with traditional programs. These in the main have been organized thusly because of building needs. But the true middle school—one

Parking Permits, Maybe, And Outdoor Assemblies For High School Students

With an expected enrollment of 900 students in a four-year program, Carmel High School has outgrown its second assembly room. As a result, all students will assemble on the football field at 8 a.m. Tuesday morning to be welcomed by Principal Warren Edwards.

"When I came here in 1952, assemblies were held in the cafeteria. Then we moved to the gymnasium. Now school bulletins will announce assemblies on the football field — weather permitting," Mr. Edwards observes. The move is necessary because the state fire marshal has set 850 students as a safe number to gather in the gymnasium, he adds.

In a letter sent to all parents of high school students, Mr. Edwards states, "Parking on the high school campus has become a serious problem and we must take steps to discourage students driving cars and other vehicles to school. We will issue a parking permit sticker for a vehicle upon receiving a written request from the parents of a student stating the reasons why the student must use a vehicle daily. Generally acceptable reasons will include a regular job; enrollment in our work experience program; attendance at a special course at Monterey Peninsula College during the school day.

"The school provides adequate bus transportation throughout the district at considerable expense, so we will, therefore, take a dim view of matters of convenience," Mr. Edwards emphasized.

In addition to the above restrictions, high school students will not be permitted to park off campus. Students who do merit parking permits will not be allowed to leave the campus in an automobile or other vehicle, except for reasons stated above, until the end of the school day.

"It should become obvious that we are subscribing to the philosophy that wheeled vehicles are a necessity under special circumstances and not for joy-riding, or going downtown for lunch," Mr. Edwards further advised parents.

There will be no classes on Thursday, Admission Day, in any of the Carmel district schools.

School Lunch Program Has Been Revised

Vending machine food service will be continued this year at Carmel High School, also at Middle School formerly the junior high, but there will be changes in the operation of the school lunch program, the board of education of the Carmel Unified School District has decided.

All hot food and sandwiches will be prepared by district employees in the high school kitchen. This food will be placed in vending machines rented by the district from the Canteen Company, a national food vending machine firm which will provide, in separate machines, packaged food such as potato and corn chips. Such items will be sold at the snack bar at Middle School. There will be no snack bar at the high school.

Canteen Company submitted the lowest of three bids to provide food machine service in the two schools. The contract with Allied Vending Company, which until this year has operated the machines and prepared the food, was cancelled by the board of education.

Canteen Company will receive a percentage of the gross food machine sales but this percentage will vary by machines. Canteen Company bid for the Carmel district food vending contract when this type of lunch program was instituted, but was outbid at that time by Allied Vending.

Canteen Company will install its machines tomorrow. Allied Vending machines have been removed from the two schools.

Cafeterias at both Carmel High and Middle School have been given the annual thorough cleaning during the summer months. In addition, the high school kitchen has been thoroughly cleaned and repainted. Also, an open storage area at the kitchen entrance has been enclosed.

The high school cafeteria has been considerably refurbished. The hardwood floor has been covered with a light-colored vinyl tile flooring. Birch plywood wainscoting, to a height of three feet, has been installed and the same vinyl and birch plywood treatment has been used in other areas. The whole kitchen has been repainted.

Buses Leave Early For Some Students

As early as 6:22 a.m. on Tuesday, students will board a school bus in the Big Sur area to attend classes in Carmel Unified District schools. Just a little later, at 6:40 a.m., other pupils will leave the upper reaches of Carmel Valley for the first day of school in the system.

School buses will continue to roll until most of the over 2,000 students have been delivered to one or another of the district's eight schools.

At 3:40 p.m., the children who live on the far outskirts of the district will begin their one hour and 23 minute ride to the bus stop nearest their home. It will be almost 11 hours after they set forth in the morning. Ed Goodrick is the director of transportation for the vast district which maintains 14 buses and a number of smaller vehicles for outlying areas. A fulltime mechanic is employed to keep all the transportation requirements in running order.

The unusual—for the U.S. Army—scene pictured above takes place on the Forest Theater stage during performances by the Golden Bough Players of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" which will be presented tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday evenings, also on Saturday afternoon, by the Community Theatre.

Herron Grandson Visited

It is apparent that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herron were as delighted with the company of their grandson, Christopher Joy, this summer as he was with his stay here. The eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Joy (Schatzi Herron) of Glen Ridge, New Jersey, attended Robert Louis Stevenson School during vacation and spent a week in Yosemite with the school's vagabond trip to the park. Unfortunately, his bunk mate had a case of mumps which he shared with Chris. However, the lad was fine again when he left to spend a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Edward C. Stetson (Gretchen Herron) in Menlo Park before returning to New Jersey.

Winners At Fair

Hazel Jacoby of Carmel won ten awards in the 4-H food preservation section at the Monterey County Fair, the greatest number of prizes given in this category. She took six firsts, three seconds and one third.

In the 4-H woodworking class, John Jacoby took a first place with a saw horse and another first for other wood items.

In the 4-H home furnishings class, Hazel Jacoby took 12 first and two second places.

Jennie Hill Was Home

Jennie-Keith Hill was in Carmel last week for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Hill, before returning for her second year of graduate study in anthropology at Northwestern University as a teaching assistant. In connection with her work at the university, she spent the summer in Flagstaff, Arizona, in research on the Navajo language.

Other visitors at the Hill home are Mr. Hill's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Alexander (Harriet Hill) and their daughters, Autumn and Brett. The Alexanders will visit Oregon before departing, on Labor Day, for Hong Kong, where Mr. Alexander is a member of the U.S. Foreign Service.

Traveling Salesmen

Paul Fischbein, former Pine Cone salesman, and his brother, Mark, are having a fine time sight-seeing in the New York area. Paul writes that they have visited Coney Island, the Statue of Liberty, and seen the inside of a subway. En route from Carmel to New York, they passed through Yellowstone National Park, where they saw Old Faithful and lots of bears, one with ribbons on its ears. The youngsters traveled across the country with their parents, Lieutenant Commander Ernest Fischbein (USN) and Mrs. Fischbein, who are now making their home in New York.

Two other Pine Cone distributors, Jody and David Riano, were in Palo Alto when last heard from. With their parents, Lieutenant

Over 35 Mercury sailboats, like those shown above maneuvering for position as they run before the wind, will contend for honors this weekend in the 16th Annual Stillwater Labor Day Invitational Regatta at Stillwater Cove. Absent this year from the popular yachting event, which has drawn up to 64 entries in the past, will be representatives of Southern California fleets which are holding sectional regattas in that area.

Colonel Blaine Riano (USAF) and Mrs. Riano, they are on the way to Okinawa.

Returns And Departures

Nancy Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, has just returned home after a summer in the East, where she was the guest of Captain and Mrs. Robert Meyer, whose children attended Carmel schools while Captain Meyer was at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School. Delighted with her travels in the eastern and New England states, Nancy was particularly thrilled with her first view of the Statue of Liberty.

The Robertses' sons, David and Deo, left Los Angeles on Sunday to drive to Mazatlan on the start of a three-week vacation in Mexico. From Mazatlan they will fly to Puerto Vallarta, which Deo found to his liking on a previous visit, before visiting other sections of Mexico.

Cruised With Navy

Thomas K. Perry and Thomas Tonkin returned this week after a five-day cruise out of San Diego on the heavy cruiser Canberra. The two civilians were guests of the Secretary of the Navy.

Activities get under way on Saturday with a tour de course at noon, followed by a tune-up race at 3 p.m. Sunday races start at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday, the third and final race is scheduled for 11 a.m., with the trophy presentation at the Beach Club immediately following. George Yates is chairman of the regatta.

Local and visiting yachtsmen and their guests will gather for cocktails Saturday evening at the Matthew Jenkin's log cabin overlooking the cove, and on Sunday evening there will be a dinner dance at the Beach Club.

Jamie Crawford Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crawford of Pebble Beach have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jameson, to David Hall Keron of Fresno.

"Jamie," the sister of Frazer Crawford of Pebble Beach, is a sophomore at California Polytechnic College, where her fiancé is a junior.

David is the son of Mrs. Edward J. Alstrom of Fresno and the late Francis Harold Keron. His sister, Frances, was married last Saturday in Fresno to John Ades.

No dates has been set for the young couple's wedding.

Competition With A Bear

Pat (Mrs. George) Walker says there was really nothing special or unusual about the family's last pack trip in the high Sierra, except for the fact that a bear tore apart two of their packs before they managed to rout him. At that, she added, he merely lumbered across the creek to hide behind a tree and peek out to glare reproachfully at them.

The Walkers, with their children, Kathleen, Jeff, Carolyn and Becky, hiked from Lake Tenaya to Sunrise High Sierra camp, then circled to climb Cloud's Rest which, they say, really seemed like the top of the world. On this trip, Jeff got the biggest and first servings from their new portable oven because he carried it atop his pack for the entire journey.

Visits Sunset Center

Teen-age Rachel Anne Karp, daughter of Philip Karp, principal contra bass of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera Company, has been a frequent and enthusiastic visitor to Monterey County Symphony headquarters in Sunset Center during the past two weeks. A houseguest of Mrs. Louise Vadetsky, cellist and the county symphony's librarian, Rachel and her parents have a wide circle of friends here. A long time friend of Conductor John Gosling, Philip Karp has traveled several times from San Francisco to perform at Sunset on Monterey County Symphony programs.

Balboa Jaunt

Robert A. "Steve" Stephenson and his son, Twig, returned Sunday from Balboa Island, where for a week they shared a house with the family of Steve's brother, Tom Stephenson, whose home is in the Southland. Marring their otherwise fun-filled vacation was a nasty foot wound Twig suffered shortly before their return.

While her husband and son were away, Patty Stephenson spent a weekend in San Francisco, with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Stevens of Pacific Grove, browsing through art galleries and craft centers.

On Dean's List

Clinton Zobel, a junior at Fresno State College school of agriculture, was named to the Dean's List for the Spring semester, with a grade point average of 3.07.

Completed Enlistment

James R. Zoellin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Zoellin of Carmel, returned home last week after completion of training under the Army reserve enlistment program at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. Jim, a 1961 graduate of Carmel High School, will attend Monterey Peninsula College this Fall.

Peter De Petra Married

Margaret Bernice Durbrow of San Francisco became the bride of Ensign Peter de Petra of Carmel on August 11. The evening ceremony, performed by the Reverend Robert Macfarlane, took place at the home of friends in San Francisco.

The new Mrs. de Petra is the daughter of Mrs. Wallace Durbrow of San Francisco and the late Mr. Durbrow. Her sister, Mrs. Russell (Carolyn) Baum, was her matron of honor.

She is a graduate of the University of California, where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and has been a member of the Merionettes swim team for a number of years.

Peter's mother, Mrs. Hella Bergmann de Petra of Carmel, and his sister, Hansi de Petra, attended the wedding. His father, Dr. Giulio de Petra of Carmel Highlands, is currently in Rome.

The bridegroom graduated from Carmel High School and the University of California, Berkeley, where he majored in international law and economics. At UC he was a member of Beta Theta Pi, Winged Helmet, Skull and Keys and Beta Beta. With marriage, he relinquished his membership in The Bachelors. Now stationed at Concord, Peter will attend Hastings Law School after completion of his naval duty next Spring.

The young couple are at home in San Francisco following a wedding trip and will soon move to Marin County.

Family friends who traveled from Carmel to San Francisco for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dedini, Mrs. Horace Hagen of Pebble Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Georges Picard and Franco Nicossi.

Christening

Two cousins were christened on Saturday afternoon by the Reverend David Hill in All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Lesley Morgan Lloyd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Lloyd of Carmel, had as her godparents two of her aunts, Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis and Mrs. S.F.B. Morse III. Her godfather was Mr. Morse.

Lloyd Nathaniel Baylis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis of Menlo Park, had his uncle, Francis P. Lloyd, and Roger Mosher of Palo Alto as godfathers and Mrs. Richard Blois of Menlo Park as godmother.

Following the double ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Morse and Mr. and Mrs. Baylis entertained at River Ranch in Carmel Valley.

Dance For Younger Set

The Beach Club at Pebble Beach became the province last Thursday evening of the junior members of Stillwater Yacht Club, who gathered with their parents and friends for a dinner-dance and presentation of trophies won in the Toro class regatta held August 13, 14 and 17. Five awards were made in both A and B divisions.

The name of Dan Dougherty, first in A division, was placed on the Grace Veeder Perpetual Trophy. Next, in order of place, were Dan Hudson, Dave Orton, John Clancy, Kent Fielding and Brad Stewart.

B division sailors who placed first to last, respectively, were Pete Muhs, Nancy Ackersstrom, Kim Matthews, Dayton Reardon, Frank Elton, Page Wedlake, Jody Bunn, Bruce Johnston and Rosemary Elton.

During the week this summer, the young competitors have been instructed by Dick Clark, John Gratiot Jr. and Stephen Gould. Dr. Ned Wedlake is director of the junior sailing program.

Bradley Is Their First

Bradley James Hanzelka, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanzelka of Carmel, arrived at Community Hospital on August 20. Here to welcome the new baby are his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Allick, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. His paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hanzelka, are also residents of Cedar Rapids.

Busy Household Again

Webster "Toby" Street confesses he missed the noise generated by his children, Deborah and Jeremy, and their friends during the summer. Mrs. Street and the youngsters returned last week after almost three months of touring Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, and the Pacific Northwest. They report that it was a wonderful vacation, particularly the time spent in Idaho, in spite of the demise of their station wagon in rural Washington.

Since their return, Mrs. Street's mother, Mrs. Richard Ervin of Santa Monica, has been here for a visit with the family.

Union Official Opposes Water District Bonds

The Monterey Peninsula Community will be saddled with a debt burden of at least $32,000,000 for 35 years if the water bond proposal of the Monterey Peninsula Water District for purchase of the 83-year-old water company is approved at the special election September 28, Louis B. Gold reported to the New Monterey Business Association recently.

Mr. Gold is vice-president of Local 483, Hotel, Motel, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International. He is also campaign director for the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association which is opposing the bonds.

"Although the district proposal requires authorization from the voters to issue bonds of $17,500,000, the interest, over the 35-year period during which the bonds are paid off, will amount to a sum of money almost equal to the principal. Too few people take this fact into consideration when voting on bond issues," Mr. Gold said.

Gold pointed out that while the district's financial advisers contend that the revenues from the water operation will not only pay off the bonds with interest but will also cover operating expenses and reserves for improvements, the water company has equally convincing figures disputing this.

"Whom are we to believe," Mr. Gold asked, "the people who have been operating a water system for 83 years in this community, with vast engineering and financial resources behind them, or a group of politically-oriented citizens who have no experience whatsoever in running a water system."

"Sufficient emphasis has not been put on the local tax loss to this community if the district takes over the privately owned California Water and Telephone Company," Gold stated.

"Over the next ten years, the company will pay $250,000 a year in taxes which support our schools and other public agencies. This amounts to 13 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation. If the company is taken off the tax rolls the rest of us will have to make up the amount which they paid.

"The district offers a bait of rate reduction in the amount of $90,000 which is one cent a day per customer. Even if they could do this, which is highly doubtful, it would be more than offset by the increase in local taxes."

Mr. Gold criticized the flexibility in the statute under which the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District is authorized to function.

"It grants a wide authority for taxation and even for borrowing money," Gold said.

"For example, without prior approval by the voters and taxpayers, the district borrowed and spent $750,000 since 1958 when it was formed for legal and engineering fees connected with the operations of the district. This $750,000 is part of the $17,500,000 bond issue. Voters are asked to approve the amount after it has been committed."

"This loan commitment is a good example of how little control the taxpayer and voter have over the actions of the district board. If it owned the water system it could raise rates overnight by a simple official action of the board. Under the present private management, for any rate raises, the water company must first prove a case of necessity before the State Public Utilities Commission, which must hold extensive public hearings where all interested parties may appeal," Mr. Gold stated.

Fifty Golden Years Of Marriage

"We wish we could have had everybody all together in Carmel to share with us our thankfulness and gratitude at having been spared through all those 50 golden years," Lucie and Peter Mawdsley, seen above, told the Pine Cone in a letter about their fiftieth wedding anniversary which they celebrated on August 14 at the Oswego Lake Country Club in Oregon.

Their golden wedding anniversary was on May 24 but their son, Peter, and their daughter, Audrey, their spouses and the grandchildren could not conveniently come to Carmel on that date, so Peter and Lucie decided to wait until everyone could gather in Oregon.

At the beginning of July, they left for Lake Oswego where they have been staying in a rambling house overlooking the lake with deodar, locust, fir, maple, walnut, apple, pear and plum trees in the three-quarters of an acre around the house, also berries, flowering shrubs, lawns and ivies—"a veritable Shangri-la," they report.

The Mawdsleys' son, Peter, his wife, Virginia, and their two children, Stephen and Susan, were at Lake Oswego, too, although Portland is where Peter Jr.'s business interests are. The Mawdsleys' daughter, Audrey, and her husband, Celso Cordova, from San Jose, joined the rest of the family for the golden wedding party.

"We were free to spend a long time together for a real celebration," Peter and Lucie say.

"Just the same, we wish we could have had our very special anniversary celebration in our own Carmel where we really belong," they add.

This week, Peter and Lucie left on a leisurely motor trip home. "And we are looking forward to spending the rest of our years in the peace and serenity of our lovely Carmel," they write.

Peter Mawdsley retired in 1956 after being Carmel's city clerk for 18 years. Mrs. Mawdsley was assistant city clerk for part of this time. They were married in Bristol, England, in 1915 on Empire Day which honors Queen Victoria's birthday.

As a consequence of reading Jack London's "Valley of the Moon" they set out for Carmel and camped here in 1922 until they could find a house.

Besides being city clerk, Peter Mawdsley was a member of the first board of trustees of the Carmel Unified School District, worked hard before this to have a high school in Carmel and served as financial advisor to the unified district after it was formed.

He was one of the first members of the Carmel Business Association, also was a president of the Carmel Board of Realtors. As city clerk, he was instrumental in the purchase of old All Saints' Episcopal Church for the present city hall.

When he retired nine years ago, Peter Mawdsley was honored by a dinner at Pine Inn attended by nearly 200 townspeople. At this affair he was further honored in a California Senate resolution prepared by Senator Fred Farr of Carmel. The late Talbert Josselyn, a Carmel writer, read a eulogy expressing the respect and affection of the people of Carmel.

Carmel Girls Invited To Join Synchronized Swimming Group

A special invitation to Carmel girls between the ages of nine and 15 years to join the Cypress Swim Club was issued today by Donn Squire, coach of the award-winning synchronized swimming team which practices at the Carmel High School pool and the Carmel Valley Community Pool.

Mr. Squire, who is the men's National AAU synchronized swimming solo champion, coaches the Cypress Swim Club with the assistance of manager Del Neel. Both men volunteer their time, and receive no compensation for their services.

The club will hold auditions for potential new members at the Carmel Valley Community Pool, from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday and Thursday, September 8 and 9. Interested applicants should arrive at the pool on either of the two evenings, and, because of the lack of dressing room facilities, should wear a bathing suit and cap.

Membership is open to any girl passing the qualifying tests who has maintained a "B" scholastic average, and who is a better than average swimmer.

Parents and members of the Cypress Swim Club, which is not quite one year old, have expressed amazement at the rapid development of the swimmers. In the short time since its formation, the club has won several medals in AAU competition.

Parents of applicants who are accepted will be asked to attend an orientation meeting to discuss sustaining membership requirements and the payment of nominal dues which are tax deductible and which cover operating expenses and competition in AAU meets.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The concept of man as made "in the image of God" will be presented in the Bible Lesson-

Sermon at all Christian Science services this Sunday. The subject is "Man."

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy will be included: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 502).

The Golden Text is from Daniel in the Old Testament: "O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong yea, be strong."

'Teahouse Of The August Moon', As Presented In Forest Theater, Is Outstandingly Artistic Play

Artistry pervades the Golden Bough Players' production of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" which was presented last week-end by the Community Theatre and will be repeated tomorrow and Saturday evenings, also Saturday afternoon, at the city-owned outdoor Forest Theater.

Attention to detail in Frederick Rider's direction attains near perfection in the portrayal of characters in the John Patrick adaptation of the Vern Sneider novel—and not the least of this attention was devoted to sensitive casting.

Rick Beck-Meyer, to the fullest degree, utilizes the Forest Theater's pinewoods backdrop in his stage settings of tasteful simplicity. Lighting by William Lewis enhances these sets and Jan Boston's costuming contributes added authenticity and charm to the production. Delightful Oriental music by Dai-Keong Lee helps transport the audience to the Island of Okinawa where the action of the play takes place.

Frank Wang, outstanding in the part of Sakini, the interpreter, deftly weaves this action into a delightful fable wherein the "democracy" of the West encounters the philosophy of the East in a series of amusing episodes which leads to a climax in which the twain do meet, but not at all in an expected manner.

Lieutenant Bruce Albert (USN) understandingly plays Captain Fishby whom the U.S. Army has sent to indoctrinate Okinawans in a remote village with the ideals of democracy. He succumbs to the delightful customs of the country, which have successfully survived numerous invasions, under the adept tutelage of Sakini assisted by Lotus Blossom, a lovely geisha, played by Caroline Yamada whose classic Oriental dance and manners add to the charm of her interpretation.

Opposed to the pliable Captain Fishby is Colonel Purdy, an unbending officer who is determined to carry out the directives of the Army of Occupation come what may . . . and a lot does. This character gets fine portrayal by John Boles.

Outraged by the confused "reports" he gets from his young subordinate in the far-off village, Colonel Purdy resorts to sending a psychiatrist, Captain McLean, to deal with a situation which seems truly "disturbed." Dr. C. Winter VanHorn does an excellent job in this role and ends up by providing more outrages, mostly vegetable, for the colonel to fume about.

Miss Higa Jiga, the part of Kay Brown, is given a most humorous rendering. Other leaders of the village are skillfully portrayed by Tony Garafoli, Dennis Burney, Wayne Kendall, Werner Schröder, Steve Robertson, John Gota and Paul Christowski. Dave Buntin is a properly dutiful Sergeant Gregovitch — almost. Four impassive soldiers are played by Harvey Lee, Bruce LeVan, Marc Nassie and Jerry Johnson.

The parts of the villagers are delightfully depicted by Kappa Belknap, Lisa Treat, John Gota, Sally Bourgette, Amanda Lawford, Leslye Weinfeld, Shizuko Morrison, Kaneko Weber and Tina Benedict.

And then there are happy, charming children — Suzie and Holly Phan; and Christina, Felicitia, John, Clement and Joseph Wu.

A live goat and a real jeep add unexpected touches.

What plays at the Forest Theater should be is exemplified in "The Teahouse of the August Moon." And to entice audiences to a delightfully discerning experience, Japanese lanterns light the path through the trees to a flower-bedecked red torii which sets the mood of the play and, once inside this gate, spiralling smoke from bonfires at each side of the stage helps waft the audience to a land where everyone "goes out to drink tea under the pines and watch the sunset."

Seek Homes For Foreign Students Attending MPC

Housing for Monterey Peninsula College international and other non-resident students is urgently needed for the fall semester, MPC's housing office announced this week.

College officials are particularly interested in finding reasonably priced room-and-board situations in private homes, rooms with kitchen privileges and "the type of family for which a student might work for his or her room and board."

Miss Rosabelle Hamann, MPC foreign student advisor, stresses that "international students are interested in getting to know American families by living in their homes, and it is always interesting for the families to become acquainted with students from other countries, too."

She said she is also making up a list of "host" families who would be interested in entertaining foreign students.

Persons with housing to offer are urged to telephone the college housing office, 375-9821, Ext. 311.

'Can-Can' Ends This Weekend At Valley's White Oaks Theatre, Britten Opera Opens September 9

Benjamin Britten's exciting opera, "The Rape of Lucretia" will be performed at White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley on September 9, 10, 11 and 12. In addition, on September 12, a special chamber music matinee will be presented.

Tonight, tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday evenings, at 8:30 p.m., Cole Porter's musical, "Can-Can" will play at White Oaks for the last times. "Off With His Honorable Head," a children's play, will be given its last performance on Saturday afternoon.

Chris Nance, the theatre's musical director, also assistant director of opera at Louisiana State University, has assembled eight outstanding singers to comprise the cast of the first full-length opera to be presented by White Oaks Theatre.

Patt O'Neill is en route to Berlin to continue her training with Margarete von Winterfeldt. A mezzo-soprano, she received her bachelor of music degree from Louisiana State University and has been an apprentice artist with the Santa Fe Opera. She created the role of Madalena in the world premiere of Peter Paul Fuch's comic opera, "Serenade at Noon," and has performed such roles as Cherubino in "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, Annina in "La Traviata" by Verdi, Mercedes in "Carmen" and Bertha in "The Barber of Seville."

Michael Devlin, who will portray the role of Tarquinius, is also a young artist of note. Presented a national award by the National Federation of Music Clubs, Mr. Devlin has performed roles with the New Orleans Opera, been an apprentice artist for two seasons with the Santa Fe Opera Company, and recently scored as Figaro in "The Marriage of Figaro" at Louisiana State University.

The 13-piece orchestra for "The Rape of Lucretia" has also been assembled by Chris Nance. It features many young virtuosos. They include Charlotte Sax, concert mistress; Dianne Lich, second violin; Donald McInnes, viola; Susanne Hower, cello; Thomas Janusz, bass; Wendy Buffam, flute, alto-flute, and piccolo; Christy Lundquist, clarinet and bass clarinet; Leroy Southers, oboe and English horn; Julie Ann Feves, bassoon; William Blackwell, horn; Beverly Bellows, harp; Eric Remsen and Gregory Janusz, percussion.

Several of these orchestra members participated in last season's productions of Stravinsky's "The Soldier's Tale," and Menotti's "The Unicorn, Gorgon, and Manticore" which were presented at White Oaks Theatre. Tom and Gregory Janusz, together with Chris Nance, have provided the acclaimed accompaniment of the summer musicals.

The special concert of chamber music, which will take place at 2:30 p.m., will feature members of the aforementioned orchestra plus Tom Pedrini, bass, and Terry Waldo, trumpet. They will perform "Octet for Strings and Winds, OP. 166" by Franz Schubert, "Quintet for Oboe, Clarinet, Violin, Viola, and Bass, OP. 39" by Serge Prokofieff, and "Kammermusik, OP. 24, No. 1" for 12 solo instruments by Paul Hindemith.

Of interest too, is the fact that a "Concert Piece for Chamber Ensemble" by Leroy W. Southers Jr. will act as a prelude to the opera. Commissioned by White Oaks Theatre for this occasion, it marks the second time an original work by this young composer has been premiered at White Oaks Theatre.

Reservations for the four performances of "The Rape of Lucretia," and the concert of chamber music are now being taken.

Carmel Youth Wins Annual Outboard Race Marathon

Two weeks ago, a 17-year-old youth who will be a senior at Carmel High School this year, took first place in his class, for the second time, in the 335-mile gold cup outboard marathon from Sacramento to Colusa and return.

Competing with 96 other boats, Joe Stevens Jr., was one of 13 boats in the UE class which is the unlimited single engine under 50 cubic inches category. The race began in the deep water turning basin running down the deep water channel to Rio Vista, back to Sacramento via the Sacramento River, thence to Colusa 167 miles west of Sacramento. The racers spent the night in Colusa and completed the race back to Sacramento the following morning.

Joe won in his class last year, too. The annual event is the longest endurance marathon of all outboard races.

For the second time, Joe had the distinction of being the youngest driver ever to win a first place trophy in the unlimited class of this rugged marathon. He is the son of Mrs. A. T. Turner of South Carmel Hills and Joe Stevens Sr. of Manteca.

Karen Is Mrs. Wolter

When they return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Tracy Wolter, the former Karen Theron Dawson, will make their home in Carmel Valley. The couple's marriage took place on Saturday afternoon at All Saints' Episcopal Church, with the Reverend David Hill officiating.

Karen, given in marriage by her father, Charles Dawson, wore a floor length gown of white organza, trimmed with appliques of flowerlets. Her illusion veil was held in place by a cluster of matching flowerlets and she carried a cascade of yellow and white carnations, centered with a white orchid corsage.

The bride's sister and maid of honor, Christine Dawson, was gowned in an A-line sheath of green powder-puff crepe. A matching bow and net circlet covered her hair, and she carried a cascade arrangement of yellow and white carnations.

Her other attendants, dressed in similar costumes of yellow, were Mrs. Donald Luce of Pacifica, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Dale Dawson of San Francisco and Mrs. Charles Dawson of Chico, her sisters-in-law, and Sandra Lucido.

Luis Wolter II was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were the bride's brothers, Charles Dawson of Chico and Darryl Dawson of Carmel Valley, and O. K. King of Bellevue, Washington, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dawson chose a print sheath and jacket ensemble in shades of brown with a matching hat and bone accessories.

Mrs. Myrtle Ollason of Carmel Valley, chosen by the bridegroom to take his mother's place, wore an aqua brocade dress and jacket with bone accessories. As did Mrs. Dawson, she pinned a cymbidium orchid corsage to her jacket.

Arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the Parish Hall of All Saints' Church for the reception which followed the ceremony.

The bride, a graduate of Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College, attended California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo.

Her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luis Wolter of Carmel Valley and a member of an old California family. A graduate of Monterey High School, he is a director, representing Carmel Valley, of the Soil Conservation Commission. Another of his sisters, Mrs. Owen K. King of Bellevue, Washington, was here for the wedding.

Return To India

The Reverend William Arthur Kelly Jr. and Mrs. Kelly, missionaries of the United Church of Christ, will leave San Francisco this week to return to their work in Madurai, South India, where, except for furloughs, they have been since 1958. Mr. Kelly holds degrees with honors from Western Reserve Academy in Ohio, Yale University, Boston University School of Theology and Yale Divinity School. He was also a Fulbright scholar at the University of Edinburgh.

Mrs. Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis F. Bradshaw of Carmel Valley, is a graduate of the University of Connecticut. In Madurai, she taught English and served as superintendent of industries in the Lucy Perry Noble Institute, a special school for underprivileged girls near there.

Accompanying the Kelleys are their four children, Christopher, Peter, and twins Rani Louise and David Paul.

Enrolls At Medical School

Annette R. Stoesser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric J. Stoesser of Carmel, will be a member of the incoming class of 1969 at Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania this month. The Philadelphia college, founded in 1850, was the first and is still the only woman's medical college in the western hemisphere.

Dee Sharpe Croxton Visited

Dr. and Mrs. James Croxton (the former Dolores Sharpe) were here with their three daughters for a week as guests of her mother, Mrs. Ramona Sharpe, who found 10-month-old Corvina enchanting and enjoyed getting reacquainted with young Jesse and Erica.

Dee, as she was known to her Carmel High School classmates, has become interested in adult education nursery school work, particularly in the field of pre-school education for the culturally underprivileged.

While they were here, Dee and her husband, a philosophy instructor at Long Beach Junior College, attended the 15th reunion of her 1950 high school class.

Studio To Present International Star In Unique Program

Great show tunes and the stories behind them, sung and told by Broadway and international star Dossie Hollingsworth, will afford Monterey Peninsula live theatre buffs unique fare at The Studio Theatre Restaurant these next two weekends. Opening September 10, the shows are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights; curtain time 8:30 p.m.

The title "Dossie Sings Music a la Carte" derives from the star's exciting impromptu song sessions after hours with friends and fellow performers. Miss Hollingsworth will leave for New York commitments late this month.

Marion Shand

Private services for Mrs. Marion Shand, who died at her Carmel Valley home on Friday, were held Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove. Prior to moving to the Valley in 1947, she had made her home in Carmel for 26 years and was a well known resident of the community.

Mrs. Shand, the former Marion Daniels, was born in Grand Rapids, Michigan, in 1889.

As a young woman, she studied for a professional career in the theatre, in which she retained an abiding interest, and was a successful actress in eastern productions until 1921, when she retired from the stage for reasons of health. Established in Carmel, she was active in theatrical productions of the old Arts and Crafts Club and later in the Golden Bough Theatre.

Her marriage to the late Arthur (Trev) Shand, who died in 1959, took place in 1926. She later joined him in partnership in his real estate business and worked with him until his retirement.

Although Mrs. Shand had no children, her interest in and affection for them was evidenced by her many acts of kindness to individual youngsters, as well as by her strong support for excellence in Carmel's public schools. She was a member of the group which worked to establish a high school in the community.

With appreciation of the area's natural beauty, she aided the efforts of others to retain it and to protect both domestic animals and wildlife.

Mrs. Shand is survived by her sisters, Mrs. Hal (Nancie) Bragg and Miss Camilla Daniels of Carmel; a nephew, Dougall Bragg of Carmel; a niece, Mrs. Theodore (Nancie) Dellaganna of Templeton; and two nephews living in Florida.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of the services.

WHEN HIS SON WAS BORN HE PLANTED A DOUGLAS FIR TREE

in the front yard of his little Carmel studio, and he painted "the Bonnie Fir" on the gate. Nearly 40 years have passed, and Douglas is a fine teacher in a distant state, and the fir is a handsome specimen secluding and sheltering the little cottage at the rear of the lot.

"Bonnie Fir" is only a few blocks from town and a few blocks from the sea—not much of a house by present-day standards; still, it's a very personable little weekender or rental cottage with its stone fireplace, two bedrooms, good bath, kitchen with stove and refrigerator, and it's VERY clean and in good condition. Why not see if you could use it now and perhaps build your permanent home on the premium lot later?

The price is only $19,900

with flexible scheduling, individualized programs—numbers hardly more than a dozen across the country.

So, what are some of the features of our middle school:

(a) A schedule specifically designed and tailored to fit the needs of the individual student. One that will allow teachers to teach their specialty. A schedule whereby students are individually grouped in each subject area to allow them to move ahead unhampered by slower students, or being defeated daily by superior students. A schedule that will allow for more flexible movement of students within groups by having many sections of the same subject at the same time. A schedule that will provide an academic specialist in each discipline for every student. A schedule that will permit each student to work at a level commensurate with his or her ability.

(b) The schedule will also provide certain advantages for students:

(1) Permit each teacher to stay in his or her field of specialization.

(2) Limit each teacher's classes to six with approximately 25 students per class.

(3) Provide each teacher with two preparation periods per day—both of which come at the same time as other teachers in a particular subject area.

(c) Besides its unique schedule, we have added eight new classrooms with sliding walls. This will allow us two large group facilities each the size of four classrooms.

(d) Gymnasium, art, shop, music and science facilities for fifth and sixth graders previously not available for these grades.

(e) Greater quantities of instructional aids, so necessary for grouping and team teaching, such as tape recorders, overhead projectors, transparency making equipment, film strip projects, supplementary textbooks, reading accelerators, and science equipment. On top of that a library of at least 8,000 books.

We feel that the ultimate success of this kind of program depends not so much on its acceptance by children and parents, but in the ability and inclination of teachers to get together and work as a team. The schedule presents the opportunity for grouping, ungradedness, and team teaching, but to secure its maximum value depends upon our securing and keeping the best teachers possible.

Four New School Administrators

Four new administrators have been employed by the Carmel Unified School District. They are David Erskine, River School principal; Henry Chapple, assistant principal at Middle School; Ross Evans, assistant principal at Carmel High School; and Dan Yurkovich, administrative assistant to Superintendent Medill Bair. Mr. Yurkovich is not new to the district, however. He was principal of the former junior high last year and also has served in other capacities at that school and at Carmel High. The position he has this year is a new one created by the board of education.

Letter To Editor

Editor
Carmel Pine Cone

It has come to my attention that one of the principal leaders of the opposition to the proposal of Arts Inc. to build a community center on the Sunset School site has publicly stated that the writer is president of Arts Inc.

I am not a member of that organization. Possibly the confusion is due to somewhat similar names of two entirely separate organizations, namely Arts Inc., whose president is Mr. Malcolm Millard and Arts Council.

Local arts councils are nationwide and have a national organization, incidentally started by a member of the Junior League of New York and later developed by Mrs. Helen Thompson now with the American Symphony League.

However, we are more than gratified to have Arts Inc. propose to finance, build and maintain an arts center on the Sunset site.

Some eight or nine music and arts groups of the Monterey Peninsula were asked to join in forming an Arts Council. Other arts groups or allied organizations will be invited to become members of the Arts Council.

While the original group forming the Arts Council generally are partial to the Sunset site for Arts Inc. proposed development, they recognize certain advantages of several other available sites, should Arts Inc. be unable to arrive at a satisfactory contract with the City of Carmel for the use of the Sunset site.

It is beyond my comprehension why there should be any opposition to the proposals of Arts Inc. to build and finally turn over to the City of Carmel a five million dollar development of the Sunset site.

I want to commend the public spirited members of Arts Inc. for their magnificent proposal to furnish an arts center for the Peninsula.

Their approach to the project is very similar to the manner in which the now greatly appreciated Community Hospital was built. The plan is to build a needed facility at Sunset, not in any sense to "use" the property for any profit or personal gain whatsoever.

Carmel Pine Cone
Editor,

The propaganda published at the time of the purchase and the voting argument for the purchase of the Sunset property called for acquisition for "community and cultural purposes."

Let's remember that a probable 200 people inside the city limits of Carmel support art and culture—and 4,500 people are entitled to community uses.

May we have a definition of community uses?

May we have a list of community uses that will be left after a $5½ million cultural center is built on the Sunset site?

The June 1966 ballot, or a special election, can be used to determine if the citizens within the

The SUR COAST

By Elizabeth Fuller Jones

YOUTH, GRAPHIC ARTS, MUSIC

A double feature program was presented last Sunday evening and Tuesday afternoon when youthful members of the Little Lyric Theater of Big Sur shared with the community the results of five weeks of summer work.

The Big Sur Grange Hall, situated on the Juan Higuera Creek and the Big Sur River, beneath towering redwood trees, was the setting for a delightful and colorful performance of a musical, "King Arthur," by Henry Purcell. The 20 members of the cast, all girls and boys from Big Sur and Carmel Valley, pleased the audience with their quick moving and joyous interpretation of "King Arthur" given in four scenes—a Sacrificial Offering, The Fens (with a chorus of good and evil spirits), Arthur's Victory and Happy England.

The evening's entertainment opened with an original musical number, "Forward and Backward," the music of which was written by two members of the theater, Greg Granoff and Darien Hopkins.

The "double feature" of the evening was an extraordinary display of graphic arts that adorned the walls of the Grange Hall and was attractively hung all along the exterior entrance to the building.

There were accurate, gay and active renditions of the natural beauty, the animals, the people that are enveloped in the hills and coastal slopes of the Sur Coast.

The son of an artist-rancher caught beautifully and expressively, "life on the ranch" with his pictures of cattle, horses, hills and ground cover. Another the dramatic wonder of the sea and rocky coast, another the Indians that once roamed the slopes of the Santa Lucias.

Those viewing the large, harmoniously mounted achievements were impressed with the generous amount of hidden talent brought forth by this small group of Big Sur children, who were directed in their efforts by Robert Skiles, art director of the Little Lyric Theater and a teacher of art in the Carmel Unified School District. It was felt that this summer workshop filled a particular need in the community since there is no provision made for a regular instructor of art at the Captain Cooper School which these children attend.

Gene Perrine, director of The Little Lyric Theater of Big Sur, and Robert Skiles began their work in this summer workshop for children who are keenly interested in the lyric theater and allied arts immediately upon their return from summer school teaching commitments at the Perry Mansfield School of Dance and Theater in Steamboat Springs, Colorado.

CAPTAIN COOPER SCHOOL

When school opens Tuesday there will be a new teacher at Captain Cooper School, Mrs. Jane Roman, who will teach the third and fourth grades. Mrs. Roman, whose husband is stationed at the U.S. Navy Facility at Point Sur, received her education in Norfolk, Virginia, at the Old Dominican College. Mrs. Roman fills the vacancy left by Lynn Cadwell, who, together with his family, has returned to his former home and teaching area of Santa Barbara.
